PACKERS FIXED MEAT PRICES

Former Secretary of Alleged Pool Testifies.

SECRET WEEKLY MEETINGS

Declares Country Was Divided Into Sections and Firms Permitted to Ship Only Allotted Amount of Meat.
Chicago, Dec. 30.—Direct evidence that a packers' pool was in existence from 1893 to 1896, and that it, after suspending operations two years, resumed control of the country's fresh meat business, was given in the packers' trial by Henry Veeder, who admitted that he acted as secretary of the organization.
It was the first positive testimony offered regarding the existence of the old pool, which, it is said, met under the name of "Post Office Box No. 247" every Tuesday afternoon on the sixth floor of the Counselman building, Chicago, to fix the price of fresh beef, agree on the price to be paid for cattle and allot among its members the amount of meat to be shipped into the different centers of distribution.
Insider Workings of Pool.
Henry Veeder, who is a son of Albert H. Veeder, the attorney for the packers, followed his father on the stand as the second witness called by the government. He admitted many of the material allegations made by counsel for the government in their opening address to the jury.
Between 1893 and 1896 the pool members were Armour & Co., Armour Packing Company, Cudahy & Co., G. H. Hammond & Co., St. Louis Dressing and Provision Company, Morris & Co. and Swift & Co., according to Henry Veeder. In 1898 Schwarzschild & Sulzberger entered the combination, the witness said.
He described the meetings held every Tuesday, at which, he said, reports of the past week's business of the members were received and the allotment of the next week's business was divided on a percentage basis.
The witness said the country was geographically divided into five sections, each known by a letter of the alphabet, and that each of the members of the alleged pool was similarly designated to prevent publicity.
He testified that a record was kept of the amount of meat shipped to the different branch houses and weekly statements were sent to members showing the cost, average price received and the margin of profit on fresh meat in the different cities.
Veeder described the geographical division of the country used by the packers as follows:
Territory A—All east of the Mississippi river and north of the Ohio river except Illinois and West Virginia.
Territory B—All south of the Ohio and Potomac rivers and east of the Mississippi river, except West Virginia.
Territory C—Chicago.
Territory D—St. Louis and all of Illinois except Cook county and all of Iowa except Council Bluffs.
He said this division had been in existence ever since he knew anything about the packing business.
Mr. Veeder said Colorado was known as Territory E. Other sections of the country were not included in the alphabetical list.
Meetings Every Week.
In reply to questions, the witness said:
"I received two statements every Monday from each of the firms. One showed the total shipments in territory 'A' made by each firm for the week. The other statement gave the prices received for the fresh beef sold by each firm. I tabulated these figures into one statement for use by the packers at the Tuesday meetings."
The witness said he prepared a weekly statement showing the cost, average selling price and margin of profit on all beef sold at each point in territory 'A'. These percentage statements he said were mailed to representatives of each firm Monday night in envelopes marked "Personal."
"Was there any other statement regularly mailed to the members?"
"Yes; every Tuesday after the weekly meeting I would send a letter to each member notifying him of his allotment in pounds to be shipped in territory 'A' during the current week."

RUSSIA OCCUPIES BIG PERSIAN CITY

American Flag Shot From U. S. Consulate at Tabriz.

Tabriz, Persia, Dec. 30.—The Russian occupation of this city is now complete and practically all the members of the constitutional party have disappeared.
The banks and European merchants will resume business after passing nine days in a state of siege.
There have been no casualties among the resident foreign population, although many have suffered from a lack of provisions while they have been holed up in their homes during the prolonged street fighting.
The Stars and Stripes flying over the United States consulate was cut down by a Russian shell during the fighting, but no further damage was done to the consulate.
No precise figure as to the casualties sustained by the Russians and the Persians are available, but it is estimated that the Russian loss amounted to from 100 to 200 men. The mortality among the native non-combatants has not been large, and the reported atrocities by the troops on both sides are unfounded.

COURT SCORES PREACHER

Revokes License of Washington's "Marrying Parson."
Washington, Dec. 30.—"Rev." George J. S. Hunnicutt, known as the "Marrying Parson," is no longer authorized to solemnize marriage in the District of Columbia.
Justice Barnard signed an order revoking the license to marry awarded Mr. Hunnicutt Oct. 28, 1910. All marriages performed by him heretofore are held by the court to be valid.
The action of the court is the result of complaints made by a committee of clergymen that Hunnicutt was never ordained and that he was belittling the sacrament of matrimony by employing "cappers" to steer intending couples to his office.
"He seems to have made a commercial matter," declares Justice Barnard, "of performing the marriage ceremony. Such a course was calculated to encourage hasty thoughtless and ill-considered marriages."

ROOSEVELT HITS AT TAFT TREATY

Strongly Opposed to General Arbitration Proposition.

WOULD DISCREDIT THE NATION

Ex-President Declares It Is "Unctuous and Odious Hypocrisy" in Face of Abrogation of Russian Treaty.

New York, Dec. 30.—"An attitude of unctuous and odious hypocrisy," "a farce played at the expense of our reputation," "a position both ridiculous and discreditable," "mean anything or nothing," "not worth the paper on which they are written"—these are some of the Rooseveltian expressions hurled at President Taft's general arbitration treaties by the "Contributing Editor" in the current issue of The Outlook.

The attack on the Taft peace pacts is based by the former president on the recent action of congress in voting to abrogate the treaty of 1823 with Russia. The colonel approves of that action in itself, but he uses it as a strong argument for the rejection of the general arbitration treaties, unless they are vitally amended. He makes no direct comment on President Taft's part in the abrogation of the treaty.

Approves Abrogation.

Discussing the abrogation of the Russian treaty, he says:

"I cordially approve the action taken by congress in abrogating the Russian treaty, because men must vote and act on the situation as it actually confronts them; and in the actual event congressmen had but two alternatives, namely, to abrogate the treaty or to submit to the continuance of conditions which have become intolerable to our national self-respect, and which represent a continuing wrong, especially to American citizens of Jewish faith.

"I still believe that in so serious a matter it would have been well first to endeavor to secure a decision by The Hague court on the interpretation of the existing treaty. I am confident that such a decision would, of necessity, have been in our favor; and, if so, it would have enabled Russia to retire from an untenable position with good grace and no loss of self-respect.

"An object that should always be held in view in dealing with any foreign nation with which at any time we have difficulties; while if the decision as to the interpretation of the clause question had been adverse to us, we would then at once have abrogated the treaty and have been clearly right in so doing."

Peculiarly Contemptible.

Colonel Roosevelt then turns the full force of his denunciation against the pending treaties.

"But this action was taken while the universal arbitration treaties are pending in the senate. Those treaties are avowedly championed as being of the kind we are to enter into with all nations and as supplanting the existing arbitration treaties which we have with almost all nations, including Russia as well as England and France. These treaties, if ratified by the senate, will explicitly pledge the honor of the United States to the maintenance of good faith of the American nation to arbitrate precisely such questions as that which at this very moment we announce that we will not endeavor to arbitrate in the case of Russia.

"Under these circumstances, to ratify the general arbitration treaties would put the American people in an attitude of peculiarly contemptible hypocrisy and would rightly expose us to the derision of all thinking mankind, for we should put ourselves in the position of making sweeping and insincere promises, impossible of performance, at the very time when by our own actions we showed that we would certainly not keep such promises nor translate them into action. I believe that we can normally arbitrate the question of the interpretation of a treaty, even if only as the preliminary to adopting the very serious action of denouncing such treaty.

"Anything or Nothing.

"These treaties are drawn in such sweeping and vague general terms, especially in the use of the word 'justiciable,' that they might, in any concrete case, be held to mean anything or nothing, and to encourage just the kind of double dealing and bad faith which is now being shown. One thing is certain: if the question of the interpretation of a treaty is not 'justiciable,' then there never can any question arise which is justiciable.

"If the action taken in abrogating the Russian treaty is not utter and complete violation of the whole spirit and purpose of the proposed arbitration treaties, then the latter are not worth the paper on which they are written. I believe that we are right in abrogating the Russian treaty, just because I also believe that the general arbitration treaties are not worth the paper on which they are written.

"It is arrant hypocrisy for this nation to support the unamended arbitration treaties at the same time that we abrogate the Russian treaty, and to do so is to put this nation in a thoroughly false and discreditable attitude. Hypocrisy is as revolting in a nation as in a man; and, in the long run, I do not believe that it pays either."

FIND DIAMOND MINE IN BARREL OF ASHES

Free Fight For Gems Thrown Away by Mistake.

Philadelphia, Dec. 30.—Discovery of a "diamond mine" in an ash barrel in front of the jewelry store of Charles Kranich, 2556 Kensington avenue, almost caused a riot and resulted in the sale of the stones in that section of the city by boys at prices generally asked for the cheap glass imitation.

More than $2000 worth of diamonds were thrown by mistake into the ash barrel. There were 150 of the gems varying from one-eighth to one-quarter karat in size.

The stones were not missed until Mrs. Charles Kranich saw a number of men and boys fighting to get possession of the barrel. Several boys took hold of the feet of a man and pulled. The latter fell and the boys trampled on him and fought for his place.

Around the barrel were men and boys fighting to get a chance at the precious stones, but Mrs. Kranich did not have any idea what they were fighting for.

Becoming alarmed, Mrs. Kranich called her sister, Mrs. Lloyd Brooks, and her sister-in-law, Miss Bessie Kranich. The three soon discovered that the men and boys were scrambling for diamonds. Mrs. Kranich ran to the street and looked at the gems she recognized them as part of her Christmas stock and asked the men to return them.

When the boys heard that the diamonds would be taken away from them if they remained several ran away. The men returned the diamonds they had found. Only forty-four of them were recovered.

According to Mrs. Kranich, the diamonds were thrown into the ash barrel after they had been knocked off the counter by accident.

The exact loss in money is not known. It is thought, however, that the gems still missing are worth almost $1500 wholesale.

STEAL MUNICIPAL HOSPITAL

All the Furnishings and Even Windows and Doors Were Carried Off.

Freeland, Pa., Dec. 30.—Health Officer Jones visited the site of the municipal hospital, half a mile east of Freeland, and was amazed to find only the frame of the building remaining.

The last patient there was a small-pox victim. The bed upon which he died, bed clothing, furniture and utensils were stolen, even the windows and doors were carried off.

No little apprehension is felt, because the bedding and other material may rekindle smallpox germs.

500 Men Break Jail.

Mexico City, Dec. 30.—The most sensational jail delivery in the history of Mexico occurred when 500 prisoners in the San Luis Potosi penitentiary revolted. In a desperate battle with the jail guards, two of the latter were killed and sixteen wounded. The prisoners, who had mysteriously been armed, then escaped and are being pursued by 300 soldiers.

Seven Women as Mayor's Aides.

Santa Monica, Cal., Dec. 30.—Seven women have been selected by Mayor-elect R. H. Dow to act in an advisory capacity during his term of office. He has chosen fourteen men to serve in a similar capacity, and the twenty-one will comprise his cabinet.

Three Killed by Train.

Bradford, Pa., Dec. 30.—Blinded by a snowstorm, three men were run down and killed by a train while working on the Pennsylvania tracks between Eldred and Keating Summit.

SUN YAT SEN IS PRESIDENT

Elected by National Assembly at Nankin.

TO HEAD CHINESE REPUBLIC

New Executive Will Conduct Further Negotiations With Manchu Dynasty at Peking.

Nankin, China, Dec. 30.—Dr. Sun Yat Sen has been unanimously elected president of the republic of China by the rebel conference at Nankin. He will now draw up a cabinet.

For several years Sun Yat Sen has labored in America and Europe aiding the propaganda for reform in his native land, and is credited with having had a large part in organizing the present revolt.

Immediately following the receipt of word from Nankin that he had been elected president of the republic, Dr. Sun Yat Sen gave out the following statement at Shanghai, with the request that it be transmitted to his friends in the United States:

"I consider it my duty to accept the presidency. My policy will be to secure peace and a stable government by the promptest methods possible. My single aim is to insure the peace and contentment of the millions of my fellow countrymen."

The peace conference at Shanghai decided on the calling of a national convention to decide the form of government of China, whose decision shall be binding on both sides. The Manchus troops are meanwhile to evacuate their positions and the republicans to maintain theirs.

The news of Dr. Sun Yat Sen's election to the presidency by the delegates of the eighteen provinces of China proper at their conference at Nankin spread with extraordinary rapidity among the population of Shanghai. Crowds made their way to the house in the French concession in which he has resided since his arrival. When he appeared he was greeted with an enthusiastic ovation.

Members of the provisional cabinet, which was formed by Dr. Wu Ting Fang on Nov. 6, and delegates who were sent by both the imperialists and revolutionaries to the peace conference, mass frequently along the streets on their way to President Sun Yat Sen's headquarters.

Sun Yat Sen's election means that the peace conference between Wu Ting Fang and Tang Shao Yi is closed. The president will assume charge of all negotiations. The continuance of these negotiations with Yuan Shi Kai as the representative of the retiring Manchu royalty will depend entirely upon the immediate withdrawal of all the so-called imperial troops from all points of contact with the revolutionaries. Under these conditions the armistice will be extended for ten days, to give President Sun time to issue the terms under which the Manchus must lay down their arms and to decide upon pensions and other preliminary details.

There is every reason for the belief that the country is incapable of maintaining a republic, and even now in the south the republicans show extreme dissension and factionalism, thus indicating accurately the possibilities of ensuing chaos and leading surely sooner or later to foreign intervention and possibly to the partition of the empire.

WOMAN FROZEN TO DEATH

Mother's Body Protected Boy From Cold During Blizzard.

Hutchinson, Kan., Dec. 30.—After an all-night search in a blinding snow storm, amounting almost to a blizzard, W. D. Niften found the body of his wife buried in the snow near Fowler.

Clinging to her breast was her five year-old son. The boy was partly protected from the cold by his mother's body and was still alive. He may recover.

Mrs. Niften taught school. She started home with her son in a buggy. It had been snowing nearly all day, and the road was blocked with drifts in many places, making progress practically impossible.

The mother evidently decided to try to reach home by walking across fields and taking her son with her, deserted the horse and buggy.

Capture "Bad Man."

Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 30.—Howard Hartman, Perry county's "bad man," who had threatened to greet with lead any officers sent for him, fell into the hands of two stalwart state policemen when the latter was damaged. Hartman was wanted on a bench warrant and sent word that he would shoot any sheriff or constable. Troopers Everett and Davis caught Hartman in his house and his gun in the next room.

More Poisoning Cases.

Berlin, Dec. 30.—The poisoning epidemic which has attacked this city has not lessened. Twenty-five fresh cases of poisoning were reported, four of which were fatal. This brings the total deaths, according to figures, up to fifty-four.

Brothers Drown While Skating.

Dubuque, Pa., Dec. 30.—Joseph and John Savage, brothers, were drowned when they broke through the ice on the dam of the Buffalo & Susquehanna shaft. No. 3, while skating.

RECOVERS $6000 CHRISTMAS PRESENT

Bonds Lost or Stolen Found on Man Walking Street.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Dec. 30.—A week ago a Christmas present in the form of six $1000 Standard Oil bonds arrived here for Miss Margaret Morgan from a wealthy relative.

The bonds were sent through the United States Express company, and after arriving were turned over to a driver for delivery. Upon reaching the Morgan home he discovered the package was gone, and whether it was stolen from the wagon or whether it dropped out was a question which could not be answered. No trace of the bonds were found and they were about given up as lost.

Patrol Driver Harry McDonald learned that a stranger carried valuable papers with him on the street. McDonald got his tip from a friend. The stranger was taken into custody, and when searched by police officials the bonds were found in his pocket.

The prisoner said he was Ignatz Stewart and declared he found the bonds at Mahanoy City while walking the ties in the direction of Wilkes-Barre. As proof of this he showed that they had been subjected to severe weather. He declares he did not know what they were, but realized that they had some value.

Police officials are of the opinion that the real thief threw them from a passenger or freight train in the neighborhood of Mahanoy City, not realizing their value. The bonds were turned over to Miss Morgan.

WOMAN FOUND DEAD

Bullet Wound In Her Neck Points to Murder.

Rosnoke, Va., Dec. 30.—Widespread interest was aroused over the finding of a coroner's jury that Mrs. Wiley Jones on Tuesday morning came to her death by a 38-caliber pistol ball in unknown hands.

The woman had been found in the yard of her home at Bassett, near Rosnoke, with a bullet wound in the back of her head and powder marks on her bonnet. A revolver with one chamber empty was found in the house, and the coroner's jury drew alleged conflicting statements from the husband and his fifteen-year-old son as to the whereabouts of the weapon.

J. R. Taylor, the prosecuting attorney, who was present at the inquest, said that early arrests were likely.

A HEALTHY, HAPPY OLD AGE

May be promoted by those who gently cleanse the system, now and then, when in need of a laxative remedy, by taking a desertspoonful of the ever refreshing, wholesome and truly beneficial Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, which is the only family laxative generally approved by the most eminent physicians, because it acts in a natural, strengthening way and warms and tones up the internal organs without weakening them. It is equally beneficial for the very young and the middle aged, as it is always efficient and free from all harmful ingredients. To get its beneficial effects it is always necessary to buy the genuine, bearing the name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package.

REMOVING CINDER FROM EYE

Small Object Hardly Perceptible May Be Magnified by Arrangement of Glasses.

A good way to remove a cinder from the eye is shown in the accompanying illustration. D is a mirror, C is a small reading glass, and A and B the two eyes. B is the eye in which the cinder is supposed to be and by holding the reading glass as shown and looking in the hand mirror the eye is magnified, also the object in the eye. The cinder may then be easily removed with a clean rag or a soft wooden, sharp-pointed stick. The idea is rather odd, and at the same time effective, as a very small cinder hardly perceptible will often cause intense pain.

Gray Hair Makes You Look Old

A Simple Remedy Brings Back The Natural Color.

How often one hears the expression, "She is gray and beginning to look old." It is true that gray hair usually denotes age and is always associated with age. You never hear one referred to as having gray hair and looking young.

The hair is generally the index of age. If your hair is gray, you can't blame your friends for referring to you as looking old. You can't retain a youthful appearance if you allow your hair to grow gray. Many persons of middle age jeopardize their future simply by allowing the gray hair to become manifest. If your hair has become faded or gray, try Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation which a chemist by the name of Wyeth devised a few years ago. It is simple, inexpensive and practical, and will banish the gray hairs in a few days. It is also guaranteed to remove dandruff and promote the growth of the hair.

It is a pleasant dressing for the hair, and after using it a few days itching and dryness of the scalp entirely disappear. Don't neglect your hair. Start using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur to-day, and you will be surprised at the quick results.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. People's Drug Store special agent for Gettysburg, Pa.
